L.DICINAL.

Atlantic Electropaise: Gentlemen—for the past five years my wife his been a sufferer from dyspepia. So completely did the disease make a wreck of her former seif that life was almost despaired of. Her nervous system was almost entirely destroyed, and the slightest noise would throw her into a nervous spam which would last for hours. Medical skill failed to bring any relife.

Through the recommendation of an eminent divine we were induced to try the Electropoise. After a persistent use of the instrument, the effect has been wonderful. Her nervous system has been restored to its almost normal condition; her been restored to its almost normal condition, and dresition is wonderfully improved; she is rapidly gain is fish; and, upon the whole, is making a rapid recovery, which speaks volumes for the wonterful carative powers of the Electropoise, as her case was considered noncless. If any are aleptical on the subject, let them try the Electropoise and its wonderful powers will quickly dispellated doubt. Yours truly, W.M. PROPST

A Groom 124 Years Old

A dispatch from Atlanta, Ga., dated Oct. 30th, says: "Cupid cores not a whit for wrinkled faces, and gives no quarter even to hearts that have basten a century, as is shown by the proposed marriage of Hiram Lester, aged 124 years, and Mrs. Mosely, who is only 50 years younger than her intended husband. Uncle Hiram is supposed to be the oldest man in America, and is cortainly the oldest lover that ever "popped the question" and won a bride. The aged coupie came here yesterday from a poor farm a few miles from the city, and will be married to-morrow.

The groom is an interesting character, and there is not the slightest doubt about his un paralled age. Uncle Hiram, for he is always called that, was born in Raleigh, N. C., in 1767, or two years before the birth of Napoleon Bonaparte. An old family Bible gives the dates, and has often been exhibited by the old man. He has a son living who is over 80, who lives at Tunis Station, Georgia, and several great-great grandchildren. He was 18 when the Revolutionary war broke out, and took part in some of the thrilling scenes that then occurred in the Scoth. Uncle Hiram fought Indians, and when the war of 1812 was declared although commend of the scale of the scal clared, although a man of 45, he enlisted and engaged in a number of battles. He was with Jackson in 1814, but was not present at the battle of New Otisans.

He, with others made a pilgrimage to George Washington's house at Mount Vernon and talked with the Father of his Country. This, Uncle Hiram says, was the greatest incident in his marvelous career. He has voted for or against every President of the United States.

When the Mexican War came Lester was too old to be a soldier. His cousin, General Hays, won distinction and was killed at Buena Vista. Three of Uncle Hiram's sons cerved with the Confederacy during the Civil War. Borne down by the heavy weight of years in 1881 Uncle Hiram was compelled to go to the poor farm. Mrs. Mosely had charge of the farm.

A great friendship at caree approach to be

A great friendship at once sprung up be tween them. Unce Hiram looked upon Mrs. Mosely as his only friend, and he deliberately laid siege to her heart. It was a trial of courtship as hard as that endured by Jacob of old. At last he won and the wed-dieg day was named.

The groom is as bright and chipper about his marriage as a young man of one-fifth his age would be. Mr. Loster one practiced medicine. His grandfather live to be 115 years old, and his father passed the century sia must be enormously rich; all the travalers say so. Mr. Eastwick, the famous traveler, has told us of a strong room, 20x14 feet, that contains jewels valued at £7,000,-000. You reach it by a steep stair and by a parrow door, which, however, will serve. It is quite wide enough to admit the Kaianian crown, shaped like a flower pot and topped by an unout ruby from Slam as large as a ben's egg.

The pearle, rubles and emeralds, loose or mounted, ile in trays. The Kaianian belt weighs about eighteen pounds in precious stones. One or two scabbards are said to be worth $1,250,000 each .- N. Y. Journal .

AN OLD-TIME LOVER'S TRICK - Married after 20 years of love and apparently left by her husband after a day of wedded blise, is the sad experience of a pretty woman, who last Thursday was Mrs. M. Walker, a Mansfield, Pa., widow. Thursday evening she was married to Thomas Benton, of Idaho, They had met and loved 20 years ago, but quarreled and Mrs. Walker married for re-Benton returned and the marriage followed. Friday night at 6:30 Benton took his wife's pocketbook with $230 to buy tickets. He has not been seen since.
